III. PLACES AND DATES OF THE CONTEST AND ITS QUALIFYING COMPETITIONS

3.1. The Army Tactical Shooting Contest is held within the framework of the International Army Games, with the involvement of teams from foreign countries, using the facilities of the training and material base of the country in which the Contest is held. When holding an international contest, the official languages are Russian and English. Interpreters, if necessary, are provided by the host country.

IV. PROCEDURE FOR PREPARING AND HOLDING THE CONTEST

4.1. The preparation of the Contest begins in advance, but no later than 1 month before its start. Organization of preparation for the Contest includes: planning, preparation of the management, administration, jury, participants and educational and material base.

4.2. The preparation of the management, administration, and jury is carried out in order to achieve a common understanding of the procedure for organizing and conducting the Contest. It is carried out in the form of setting tasks by the organizer of the Contest and monitoring their implementation.

4.3. When setting tasks, the organizer of the Contest must indicate: the goals, tasks, duration, composition of the management and the jury, requirements for participants, the main preparation activities for the Contest, the timing of their performance and performers, the procedure for holding the Contest.

4.4. The plan for the preparation and conduct of the Contest is approved by the Commander of the Airborne Forces no later than 1 month before its holding and includes: the main activities for the preparation and conduct of the Contest, the officials responsible for their implementation, the timing of their implementation, the officials exercising control over the implementation of these activities.

4.5. The regulations for the Contest are approved by the Commander of the Airborne Forces no later than 20 days before its start.

4.6. The Contest opens and closes with a ceremony at the Contest location. All participating teams take part in the opening and closing ceremonies.

The Contest is held in four stages and includes:

the first stage - "Qualification" - control exercises by all members of the participating teams;

the second stage - "Single shooter" - execution of single (individual) exercises by all members of the participating teams;

the third stage - "Group" - the performance of group exercises by all members of the participating teams as part of a pair, as part of a group (four people);

the fourth stage - "Duel" performance of dueling exercises by the two best shooters in each team, in each class.

4.7. The list of exercises included in the program of the Contest is formed by its organizers.

4.8. The conditions for performing exercises include: the order of their execution, the minimum amount of ammunition, the number of attempts (repetitions), the procedure for calculation of penalty seconds, the specifics of its implementation, as well as safety requirements, the calculation of fines, permitted and prohibited actions.

4.9. Basic principles of exercises' composition:

Quality. Efficiency in the Contest is determined by precise execution of the exercises. The exercises must be designed in such a way as to test the shooting skills of the participants, their physical, as well as moral, volitional and psychological qualities.

Balance. Tactics, precision and speed are all equal elements. The balance of exercises is determined by their variety and quantity ratio. All three of these elements must be equally combined when drawing up the competition program.

Variety. It is not necessary to create completely new exercises for each Contest, but the exercises should not be repeated often so as not to affect the difficulty of their execution.

The reality of the situation. To give a sense of the reality of combat conditions, a system is introduced into the target (tactical) situation that simulates the enemy and affects the main human senses - hearing (shots, explosions, screams, noise), vision (flashes, grenade throws, smoke), sense of smell (the smell of gunpowder, burning) and touch (imitation of injury, trip wires).

The order of hitting targets. Competitors are allowed to solve fire missions at their own discretion and hit targets as they are detected (appear), guided by the principle of tactical sequence and tactical priority.

Shooting stance and position. The conditions of the exercise may oblige the shooter to reload the weapon, adopt certain stances and shooting positions that provide maximum stealth and protection. Conditions can also be created and barriers and other constructive restrictions can be built in order to force the shooter to take a certain position, stance, or choose an inconvenient firing position.

4.10. The organizers of the competition must follow the basic principles of the development and formation of the list of exercises

4.11. For the exchange of positive experience, representatives of other troops, military formations, bodies and organizations of the Russian Federation are involved in participation in the Contest in a separate category (by agreement).

4.12. Competitions within the framework of the Contest are held in sports disciplines:

"Distance - 1 person (single)", "Distance - 2 persons (pair)", "Distance - group" (up to 4

and include the following exercises:

fire training connected with execution of tactical tasks to destroy an imaginary enemy;
accuracy of grenades throwing;
medical training.

4.13. Classes of the Contest:

"Standard" - small arms are used without additional equipment and devices for shooting.

"Open" - small arms are used with the usage of additional equipment (collimator and optical sights, laser pointers, etc.).

4.14. In "standard" and "open" classes, exercises can be performed at night with or without night vision devices upon decision of the head referee.

4.15. Individual classification is carried out according to the results of each shooter's performance of exercises with a machine gun and a pistol.

4.16. The team classification (in the class) is carried out according to the sum of the shooting results of all team members (in the class) in the individual competition and in group exercises.

4.17. The overall team classification is carried out according to the sum of the shooting results of all team members in the individual competition and in group exercises.

4.18. Besides, the best pistol shooters and machine gun shooters, as well as the best combat pair shall be determined according to the results of the corresponding exercises.

10.8. The Referee Commission has the right to demand from the organizers of the Contest to create objective and equal conditions in the competition for all team members. The decision of the panel of judges is mandatory for the organizers responsible for the Contest.

10.9. The present Provisions, after studying, are certified in writing by representatives of the participating countries of the Contest, thereby confirming their consent to unconditional guidance by the rules that are uniform for all Contest participants.

10.10. Changes to these Provisions can be made by the decision of the referee commission of the Contest after an open vote with a majority of votes.

10.11. The referees are obliged to prevent and suppress all cases of violation of the Rules and Provisions on the Contest, especially safety requirements.

10.12. The referees have no right to help a participant or give him advice if he does not violate the Rules, the requirements of these Provisions and safety requirements.

10.13. When performing their duties, the referees must wear a distinctive sign (uniform).

10.14. For display of indiscipline and violation of the Rules and requirements of the Provisions, the members of the referee board may be dismissed from their duties.

10.15. On the eve of the closing ceremony of the Contest, the final meeting of the referee board of the Contest is held together with representatives of the teams and members of the organizing committee, at which the results of the competition are summed up. Summing up the results includes: approval of the rating based on the final protocol of the Contest, service personnel and other persons responsible for preparing and holding the Contest (positive sides and shortcomings are noted); the degree of training and organization of the teams, and their behavior during the competition (if necessary) are assessed.

10.16. After the end of the Contest, before the final meeting, the Chief Secretary of the Contest, under the guidance of the Chief Referee, draws up a report. The report contains the following sections; general data (name of the Contest, time schedule, location and conditions of its holding); information about the participants (the names of the participating teams and their quantitative composition, age, etc.); technical results of the competitions; protests and decisions on them; discipline of the participants (violations of military discipline, of the competition schedule, of the host country legislation); the state of the material base and the quality of medical care; compliance with safety requirements; evaluation of the work of referees and team representatives; general conclusion indicating the shortcomings in the organization and holding of the Contest and proposals for the fulfillment of measures aimed at improving conditions in preparation for the next Contests. The final result protocols are prepared and signed, which are immediately announced (published).

XI. EVALUATION OF THE RESULTS OF THE EXERCISE PERFORMANCE AND SUMMARIZING THE CONTEST

11.1. All contestants are required to constantly carry a weapon card with them. The results of the exercise by the participant or the team are entered into the shooting results card for the exercise.

11.2. The card records the net time of the exercise performance by the participant or team, the results of hitting targets by calculating the merits of the holes, according to hits in the affected areas and procedural penalties.

11.3. The time during which the participant completed the exercise from the moment the signal was given at the beginning of the exercise until the last shot in the exercise, or upon reaching the maximum possible time specified by the conditions of the exercise, is entered in the "Net Time" column.

11.4. The firing results table contains the results of target firing according to the affected zones.

11.5. Each scoring cardboard target must have a minimum of two (three) hits. In this case, one of the holes must be in the lethal zone. With multiple hits on the target, the two (three) best hits are taken for scoring.

11.6. The number of scoring shots at the target is according to the conditions of the exercise (two, three). The best holes in the scoring zones are considered for scoring.

11.7. In case of hitting the boundary of the scoring zones or touching these zones, points are awarded towards the smaller scoring zone. When shooting at overlapping targets, in the event that the hole touches the scoring zones of the scoring targets and / or the scoring zone of a penalty target, all applicable hit points and penalties will be counted. In order to score the shooter for hitting the highest scoring zone, there must be a full diameter hole within its boundaries.

11.8. Holes in a cardboard target of an oversized size (larger than the full diameter of the bullet, flat, sideways do not count as a hit, if they do not have a dark belt around the edges of the hole (burning, for example, a trace of carbon on the edges of the hole left by a bullet). When counting such a hit, the referee must be sure that this hole was not formed as a result of ricochet or fragments of a destroyed bullet, or a bullet hitting a target through an obstacle.

11.9. The results of hits in the scoring areas of targets are taken into account:

"A" - time penalty is not charged,

"B" - 1 second is added,

"C" - 5 seconds are added to the time spent on the exercise.

11.10. When shooting at a steel target or at targets that do not have a hit zone, the entire target is a hit zone (no time penalty is charged for a hit). If such a target is not hit, or, in case of a recoil target, it does not fall back, then a miss will be counted and a penalty for not hitting will be imposed in the amount of 20 seconds.

11.11. Penalty time. The participant can be punished with the following penalties:

1) the penalty in the form of adding 10 penalty seconds (procedural penalty) to the participant:

for each case when the shooter touches the ground with any part of his body or an object outside the boundary line during shooting; for moving hands towards the weapon or shifting to a more advantageous shooting position or stance after the "Attention" command and before the start signal;

for any manipulation of the weapon (elimination of the delay, change of the magazine, etc.) within the sight of an unhit target (not behind shelter); for an unintentional fall or loss of a magazine or any piece of equipment to the ground during exercise;

for each shot of the shelter;

for touching the barrel of the weapon on any element of the shelter at the time of the shot, except for cases stipulated by the conditions of the exercise;

for moving out of the gun barrel from behind the shelter, except for the cases stipulated by the terms of the exercise; for violation of the procedure for performing the exercise specified in the terms of the exercise;

for the lack of communication between the team members (depending on the terms of the exercise: voice, visual, tactile);

for the lack of mutual cover when moving as part of pairs (groups);

when the gun barrel of the participant providing cover is directed not towards the targets, and the participant himself is not behind the shelter;

for each stop during shooting, if according to the conditions of the exercise the shooting is carried out in motion;

for single shooting, if according to the conditions of the exercise target firing is carried out with automatic fire (each such case is punished with a fine);

for finding the index finger in the projection of the trigger bracket of the weapon when moving (in case of a repeated violation, the participant may be disqualified).

for not turning on the safety catch of the weapon when moving between firing positions, unless otherwise stipulated by the terms of the exercise.

2) hitting a cardboard target with only one shot (miss) - 10 Seconds;

3) unhit target (with a grenade, small infantry shovel or knife including) - 20 seconds (there is not a single hit on the cardboard target, the metal (bobbing) target did not fall, the grenade did not hit the target external dimensions;

4) hitting a penalty target - 20 seconds.

11.12. According to the results of the exercise, the shooters are arranged in a list in ascending order in accordance with the individually accumulated time for the exercise, counted to two decimal places.

11.13. In case of equality of personal results, the advantage is given to the participant with the best shooting result (number of hits).

11.14. In case of equality of personal (team) results and if the advantage could not be determined, then the participants (teams) who showed the same result are entered into the competition protocol with one identical rank in alphabetical order with the corresponding following rank(s) omission until the next contestant (team).

11.15. In pairs (teams) competitions, the result is determined by the total time of the shooting results of both participants. Summing up the results is regulated by the Provisions.

11.16. It is allowed to inspect the targets after the command of the senior firing officer (firing officer in the area).

11.17. During scoring, the shooters must not approach the targets. The counting is carried out in the presence of the team captain, who has no right to approach any target closer than 1 meter without the permission of the referee.

11.18. When scoring, the team captain is prohibited to touch, measure holes or otherwise contact any target without the referee's permission.

11.19. If the target is sealed prematurely and this interferes with the correct scoring, the referee must assign the shooter to reshoot the exercise.

11.20. The participant is dismissed without warning from participation in the competition (disqualified), for unsportsmanlike behavior: deceit, foul language, attempts to gain an advantage in an unsportsmanlike way, for failure to comply with the reasonable requirements of the competition officials or for behavior that can be regarded as discrediting tactical army shooting as a sport, and also if he:

1) Violates safety requirements.

2) Fired a shot:

above the front or side bulletproof embankment;

hitting the ground at a distance of less than 3 meters from the shooter;

while loading, unloading or reloading weapons;

during actions to eliminate the malfunction of the weapon;

when moving a weapon from one hand to another;

during movement (except for the specific exercise).

3) Is under the influence of alcohol, narcotic drugs, psychotropic substances or their analogues, new potentially dangerous psychoactive substances, as well as other intoxicating substances.

4) Other cases specified in the Rules.

11.21. If a contestant is disqualified from the competition, he must immediately leave the competition location.

11.22. The decision on application of penalties is made by the chief referee of the competition.

11.23. The decision to disqualify a contestant in the competition is made by the Chief Referee of the Contest.

11.24. The organizing committee must report cases of malicious violation of the norms of behavior or the Rules by a team member to the military command body, which he represents at the competition.

XII. SUBMISSION OF PROTESTS

12.1. A protest (Appendix No. 3) is submitted by the team leader in writing in Russian and English (or in the language of the state in which the Contest is held) to the Chief Referee of the Contest no later than one hour after the dispute arises.

12.2. The protest is written to the Chief Referee of the Contest and submitted to the Secretary of the Contest.

12.3. The content of the disputable matter, the time and place of the disputed results of the competition, actions (decisions) with the attachment of photo and video materials fixing the disputed results of the competition, and actions (decisions) requiring consideration by the referee board of the Contest are indicated in the protest in an optional form.

12.4. When making a decision on a protest, the referee board is obliged to listen to the explanations of the person who filed the protest and the person against whom the protest was submitted. If the interested parties fail to appear, the decision may be made in absentia.
